

Peaceful Rally for Justice, Rights, & Respect

Saturday, October 23, 2010
2:00 pm

Honor the loss of these vibrant individuals.
March in solidarity for justice and respect.
Listen to passionate speeches.

Support those who have been personally affected.
Build a stronger community that cares.
Envision a world without violence and discrimination.

A Peaceful Rally in Response to Bullying, Suicide, and Murder.

- Chanel Larkin, an African-American transgender woman, was murdered in Milwaukee on May 7, 2010.
- Three other African-American LGBT deaths since May 2010 (hit and run, robbery, intimate partner violence).
- Nearly a dozen youth in the past 2 months have committed suicide after being harassed and bullied by schoolmates for being (or being perceived as) LGBT.

These tragedies have similar roots in a society...

- ...that is racist;
- ...that denies LGBT people basic human rights;
- ...that allows too many African-American and/or LGBT students to drop out of school (or die) before completing their education; and
- ...that does not stop bullying, discrimination, and prejudice whenever and wherever it happens, be that at home, school, religious institution, neighborhood or nation.

Location:

MacArthur Square between the Safety Building (821 W. State Street) and the Milwaukee Public Museum (800 W. Wells Street), between 7th and 9th Streets.
